Women Who Are Ill To Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

East Rochester, N. Y.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for several years and think it fine. I am a practical nurse and when I get run down and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound. I also have trouble with my bladder when I am on my feet and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash relieves that. I have recommended your medicine to several young ladies who have all benefited by it."—Mrs. Anna L. Barrows, 306

Eye Specialist and Medical Author

Report on Wonderful Remedy To Strengthen Eyesight

Say It Strengthens Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

New York.—Dr. Smith, a well known eye specialist, and Dr. Judkins, a Massachusetts physician and medical author, make the following reports after a thorough test of a popular remedy for the eyes:
"Says Dr. Smith: 'When my attention was first called to this remedy, I was skeptical. But it is a rule of mine to give every new treatment a chance to prove its value. Having specialized in eye work for many years, I feel qualified to express an intelligent opinion on remedies for the eye. Since this one has created such a sensation I welcomed the opportunity to test it.
I began to use it in my practice a little over a year ago and I am frank to say that some of the results I have accomplished with Bon-Opto not only astonish myself, but also other physicians with whom I have talked about it, and I advise every thoughtful physician to give Bon-Opto the same careful trial I have and there is no doubt in my mind that he will come to the conclusion I have reached. I have seen a number of cases of many eye troubles which have heretofore been difficult to cope with.
I have had individuals who had worn glasses for years tell me they have dispensed with them through the use of Bon-Opto. I myself own practice I have seen it strengthen the eyesight more than 50 per cent. in one week's time. I have also used it with surprising results in cases of work-strained eyes, pink eye, inflamed lids, catarrhal conjunctivitis, smarting, painful, aching, itching eyes, eyes weakened from cold, smoke, sun, dust and wind, watery eyes, blurred vision, and, in fact, many other conditions too numerous to mention in this report. A new and striking case that has just been brought to my attention is that of a girl 15 years old.
Two prominent eye specialists, after a thorough examination, decided, according to her father, that in order to save the sight of his right eye, the left must be removed. While waiting for the opportunity for the operation and still undecided as to its wisdom, her father was told it would do no harm to use Bon-Opto. In less than three days a marked improvement was noticed. At the end of a week the inflammation had almost entirely disappeared and the sight of the eye was pronounced saved. Just think what the saving of that eye meant to this little girl. In other cases that of a lady 93 years old. She came to me with dull vision and extreme inflammation of the lids and the conjunctiva was almost raw. After two weeks' use of Bon-Opto the lids were absolutely normal and her eyes are as bright as many a girl's of 15."
Dr. Judkins, Massachusetts physician and medical author, formerly chief of clinics in the Union General Hospital, Boston, Mass., and formerly house surgeon at the New England Eye and Ear Infirmary of Portland, Me., says: "I have found oculists too prone to operate and oculists too willing to prescribe glasses, while neglecting the simple formulas which form the basis of Bon-Opto, which, in my opinion, is a remarkable remedy for the cure and prevention of many eye disorders. Its success in developing and strengthening the eyesight will soon make eye glasses old-fashioned and the use of Bon-Opto as common as that of the toothbrush. I have seen it strengthen the eyesight at least 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances." Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses and many who wear glasses will be glad to know that according to Drs. Smith and Judkins there is a real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have and their eyes restored by this remarkable remedy and many who once wore glasses say they have laid them aside.
One man says after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine. I am like the man on the package. A lady who used it says:
"The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this remedy for 15 days everything

BEESON DEFENDS MERCHANT MARINE

New York, April 13. Propaganda is being used against an American merchant marine, according to Rear Admiral W. S. Beeson, chairman of the United States shipping board, who spoke tonight at the annual dinner of the National Marine league in connection with the celebration of national marine day.

"The usually high record of performance of the shipbuilder, the ship operator and those who manned our ships," he said, "is often forgotten because of the insidious spreading of exaggerated accounts that now and then appear in the press, frequently under a foreign date line.
It is evidence that the art of propaganda, so effectively used in the war, is still being used in an attempt to tear down what we are bent upon making permanent—an American merchant marine made up of ships built by Americans, owned by Americans, capital, sailing under the American flag and carrying the products of this country to all parts of the world."
As an example of what has been done, in 1917 only 10 per cent. of the men below the grade of officers placed on ships by this service were American. "During the war," he said, "the months the average has been 55 per cent."

Conway deacon and Rev. J. J. Mc-Cabe sub-deacon. The committal services at the grave were conducted by Father Seiferman. The bearers were Amelie, Armand and Ludwig Fagundes, Josephature, Lewis Gin-gras and Peter Bryant.

Mrs. Phillips books gives the following story about the Brown burial ground. This burial ground is on the farm belonging to the F. S. Brown estate, about two miles southeast of Jewett City. The highway which makes the nearest approach to it is a cross road which runs from near the James Armstrong house to the house owned by Daniel Morgan. About a quarter of a mile south of the house from a point where it crosses a valley this burial place will be found.
It is marked on an early New London county map as an Indian Burying Ground, but no evidence establishes that claim. It seems to have been first the burial place of George Geer and his descendants, who settled the farm.

As settlers multiplied about it, it became a place of internment for the neighborhood, and so continued until within the last fifty years.
Besides the graves marked by inscribed stones, there are one hundred and thirty-five graves, marked by field stones without inscription, can still be made out.

The most notable known grave in this place is that of George Geer, the emigrant, who bought the farm from the Indians before 1687. Several of this man's sons and daughters became pioneers in the settlement of the thickets of New England, which is now Griswold, so in his later years George Geer removed from his farm on Rose Hill near the point where Preston, Norwich and New London touched each other to reside with his children in this locality, and died in his 106th year the greatest age ever attained by any of our residents.

He was buried in this burial ground and his grave was marked by stones without inscription, as the custom here was at that time.
Years afterward an acorn sprouted grew into a magnificent oak. Shipbuilders coveted it and it was cut down to serve this purpose, but the site of the grave, although robbed of its monument, was not forgotten by his descendants, who about forty years ago erected the granite block which now marks the place where his body was interred.

The Missionary Society of the Congregational church enjoyed on afternoon of sewing recently at the home of Mrs. E. Robinson. The president, Mrs. H. N. Wheelock, presided at the business meeting. While the members were sewing on garments to be used in the missionary work the topic of Mrs. Frank Wilcox read from the study look, A Crusade of Compassion. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. A. Faust.

Reviewing accomplishments of the shipping board from 1917, when this country had but few ships, and only 61 yards, the admiral continued:
"The merchant marine must be sustained if it is to be permanent. From the signing of the armistice the shipping board has worked to make it so.
We are convinced that the ship owners and controlled by the shipping board must be ultimately absorbed by private capital, owned and controlled by Americans and operated in open competition with the merchant fleets of the world."

Admiral Benson said that there must also be created opportunities for advancement in the merchant marine service, and that the shipping board numbers will be attracted to the life.
Capt. Irving L. Evans, director of the recruiting service of the shipping board, who followed Chairman Benson, asserted that "the section of the shipping board in establishing the recruiting service has been justified if by no other act than the raising of the number of Americans on our ships."
As an example of what has been
on ships by this service were Ameri-
can. "During the war," he said, "the

Friends of Albert Guild are sorry to learn of his serious illness at the way from his home in New London.
Mr. Guild is a cousin of Dr. F. E.
Guild and is well known in Windham, where he has often served in his profession as nurse.

Mrs. I. W. MacLean, who has been in Englewood, N. J., for about four months, is spending a couple of weeks with Miss Maud Stokes before opening her house for the summer.

Miss Anna Claassen is visiting friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.
Mrs. Ada Larrabee, Mrs. and Mrs. C.
R. Utley and Mrs. E. J. Stalker have returned from visits in New York and vicinity.

Mrs. Arthur Williams spent Sunday in Groton.
Mrs. Harry Bingham was at home from Hartford over Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Bixby is moving to the Frank house, which she recently purchased.

The services at the Congregational church Sunday were largely attended.
The new pastor, Rev. Arthur Clifford, ha dechaire of the morning service, and Rev. W. M. Brown led the C. E. meeting, at which there was an attendance of about 40. The notices for the week included a meeting of the Woman's Missionary society at Miss Emma Larrabee's Tuesday and the midweek prayer meeting Thursday.
The C. E. society is to hold an informal social with games and music Friday evening.

Louisa Chapman and family were in Norwich Saturday, purchasing an automobile.

Fred Miner and family were in Meriden Sunday, Mrs. Miner and Miss Edith remaining for a few days' visit.

Miss M. Elizabeth Warren, 16, a former resident of this place, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Morgan, in Providence last week Wednesday.

She resided at the old homestead in this place until about 20 years ago, when she went to live with her sister, and had been an occasional visitor at her brother's home at late years.
Death resulted from a paralytic shock early in December. She leaves a twin brother, W. W. J. Warren, of New York; two other brothers, Walter T.
Warren of Texas and J. Raymond Warren of this place, and her sister, Mrs. J. R. Morgan, of Providence. The funeral was held at her home Saturday with burial in Elm Grove cemetery, New London.

Mrs. J. L. Raymond spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Anderson, of Guilford.
Nathan G. Stark, a former resident of this place, died at a sanatorium in Preston Friday after a period of failing health covering a number of years.
Mr. Stark was born Jan. 7, 1838, at the place now owned by Mr. Stark. He married Feb. 18, 1862, Miss Ellen Moore of East Lyme, who has tenderly cared for him during many years of failing sight and poor health. About 1884 they moved to New London, where Mr. Stark was engaged in insurance and real estate business. Besides his widow, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Clark of New London, and several nephews and nieces, among them J. W. Stark of North Lyme. The funeral was held at his home Monday afternoon.

Home Craft Week

Home Craft Week has been established as a period devoted to the beautifying of the home, with special attention to the Draperies used, particularly the famous Quaker Craft Draperies. These latter ones are the most beautiful of the product of American looms, and in the richness of design compare favorably with the almost priceless handmade nets and laces.

Our display of Draperies and Drapery Materials is very complete, and the prices as well as the Draperies themselves are worthy of your attention. If your are contemplating any refurnishing of this nature this Spring, we urge that you visit our big Third Floor Department and investigate our display.
